PLANNING & EXECUTING TRAVEL WORKAROUNDS FOR SAVING TIME, ENERGY, & AGGRAVATION

Presenter: Myron Waldman June 1,2025

BACKGROUND

It used to be so easy to change flights by just smudging the handwritten ticket entries and then boarding the flight of your choice, but things have changed, and so has the game of travel. I spent decades traveling the world promoting interest in my company's innovative products to manufacturers, presenting technical papers, and finding sales agents. Today, I travel for pleasure, honoring the new rules and what the rules don't say about travel.

Based on our most recent travel experiences, I'll review what we learned, hoping that people will share some of their own knowledge.

PLAN

1. Discuss what used to be and still is, along with the new techniques to save money.
2. Share details of our most recent trip, including a river cruise and lessons learned.
3. Show how to save time, money, and aggravation by smart planning your next trip.
4. Share attendees' experiences on how they made their trips happier and trouble-free.

SECTONS

1. Finding travel bargains
2. Saving Time and Money at the Airport
3. Liquids 3-1-1 Rule
4. No Need to Pay for Airline Internet
5. Wheelchairs, VPNs, and SIM Cards
6. What We Learned on Our European Trip
